

WE NOMINATE

Gardner Patterson, brilliant 52-year old economist and a Princetonian for almost two decades, who has made educational news this week with the publication of a special report, "The Education of Women at Princeton," Representing well over a year of intensive work and literally 100's of exchanges with teachers, administrators and observers in all parts of the country, this remarkable document — supported by surveys and the kind of hard statistics traditionalists will cheerfully misinterpret — covers an area of American higher education in which there "is literally no bibliography of definitive literature" and, accordingly, is of significance to colleges throughout the nation.

It is Patterson's conclusion that the quality of the educational experience at Princeton, a bastion of masculine supremacy since its founding in 1746, "would be greatly enriched if women were admitted, that to achieve these benefits in full measure an undergraduate body including not less than 1,000 women is desirable, and that the arrangements should be coeducational rather than coordinate." For reasons peculiar to Princeton's present situation, he states, the operating and the capital costs at this time of such an increase in the number of students (some $300,000-plus in additional annual expenses and approximately $25-million in capital outlay) "are surprisingly reasonable."

In an era marked by the development of coordinate institutions, meaning the equivalent of "brother-and-sister" colleges and secondary schools, Patterson, who used both Faculty-Administration and student committees as sounding-boards, plumps for full coeducation. "We have uncovered no significant evidence," he writes, "that moving through such transitional phases would provide especially useful knowledge or experience . . . We therefore recommend that, should it decide to undertake the education of women, Princeton should be coeducational from the start, with a single board of trustees, a single administration, a single faculty, a single budget, and a single curriculum."

While his newly released report is described by colleagues as "the most intensive and sophisticated analysis of the question of coeducation undertaken by anyone to date," Patterson, the father of a daughter, is best known as an authority on international economics, a valued adviser to the Federal Government and as an educational innovator. For instance, as Director of Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs from 1958 through 1964, he was primarily responsible for inaugurating and developing a far-reaching program designed to train men and women for careers in the public service.

For some 18 months prior to undertaking this searching analysis, Patterson, a native of Burt, Iowa, and a product of the University of Michigan and Harvard, was Assistant Director-General for Trade Policy and Intelligence at the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade Conference in Geneva, Switzerland. In other assignments he had served as a top-level U.S. representative in North Africa, the Middle East, Western Europe, the Balkans and Israel. On the home front, he had supervised the University's International Finance Section for almost 10 years.

For bringing Princeton head-to-head with the most "important question the University as a community has faced in many decades"; for insisting that Princeton as a national institution can no longer justify "denying educational opportunities to any person because of race, creed or sex"; for his landmark contribution as author of one of the "educational think-pieces" of the 1960's; he is our nominee as

"IN MY OPINION . . ."
"Mailbox" Is Full Again. In the fall of 1968, a variety of problems on the Princeton scene were of concern to Princetonians. Some of them put their thoughts in writing to TOWN TOPICS (or to The New York Times, where in three successive days, five letters with a Princeton address appeared — a fascinatingly high percentage of acceptance by that paper of all the scores of letters it receives each week.)

Subjects touched on in TOWN TOPICS' "Mailbox" ranged from the belief that Princeton is far overdue for creation of a Civil Rights Commission, to the need for busying young children to the John Witherspoon School, to dismay over the extent that homosexuality and lesbianism are the subject matter of current motion pictures.

This week, these were the opinions of TOWN TOPICS' correspondents:

Rights Commission Needed. To the Editor of Town Topics:

We note the two mayors of Princeton have met and are considering the feasibility and formation of a possible Civil Rights Commission. We applaud their efforts, particularly if they result in action.

It is pertinent to note in addition, however, that the formation of a Civil Rights Commission was first proposed for the Princeton Borough and Township as long as six or seven years ago by Mr. James TELL IT LIKE IT IS! Some Princeton young people talk about the town with the two Democratic candidates for Township Committee, James Floyd and Thomas Hartmann. (Left to right) Charley Madden, Barbara Owen, Vincent Boone, Mr. Hartmann, Portia Edwards, Mr. Floyd, Dan Sehay and Dave Schlichling.

Floyd, currently a candidate for Township Committee, assert possession of their watered down birthright!

Township Action Welcomed. To the Editor of Town Topics: Congratulations to the Township Mayor and Committee-men regarding the enforcement of the sign limitation ordinance. I recently stopped at a service station on Alexander Street and noticed that a large quantity of the extraneous signs had been removed.

I congratulated the service station operator, thinking that he was cooperating with the American Beautiful campaign. However, he sadly informed me that he was required to remove the signs by the Township officials.

I sincerely hope this splendid effort is enforced throughout the Township and that Princeton Borough will take similar action.

Wake Up and Complain.

To the Editor of Town Topics: So I turned to the movie reviews in this week's TOWN TOPICS (September 13) and found a choice of seeing at the Playhouse how a bored housewife decides to spend her time as a $100-a-night call girl's farce at the Garden about how to milk the public of their money, featuring in the play a "hippie" Hitler, directed by a homosexual dressed like a woman, with an effeminate assistant; or more interestingly perhaps yet at the Prince, a picture about lesbians. I quote from the review of "Theresa and Isabelle" in TOWN TOPICS — "It concerns the friendship of two voluptuous young schoolgirls at a French institution which develops into an intense emotional and sexual relationship every intimate detail of which the viewer is permitted to see".

I do not know, nor can I imagine what all the secrecy is about. When Township Democratic candidates Jim Floyd and Tom Hartmann reported their meeting with the N. J. Director of Civil Rights three weeks ago, it was all an open story and a clear one at that.

Have the mayors met with the State Director? Have they decided that a commission will be a good thing? Bad Thing?

Has there been an open hearing in the heart of The John Witherspoon area so that citizens who would be most affected could express their opinions? Or will it be just another instance of citizens' having to go hat in hand to sion somehow was created that we were all going to be a lot better off because movies were going to represent life the way it really is instead of constantly portraying sugary-plums-in-fairland setups. Well, how many of you readers see these movies as real-life portrayals? Perhaps some.

Without having the slightest shred of evidence to support my claim, I would say the majority of people do not live the way these people do on film. May I suggest that those in "responsible" positions as movie producers are rapidly making life in the movies into fantasy freeland. More importantly and most particularly, movies such as these could be affecting adversely, impressively young people from emotionally unstable backgrounds.

Please, movie theaters, give us a better choice, and read or wake up and complain at me or at the movies!

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We agree with the letter published in the September 12

NOTICE
TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on space limitations, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news which must be covered at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double-spaced, and must be signed for publication. Those received later than Monday afternoon may be held for use the following week.

Brenda W. Lapsley and James N. Lapsley.

We urge the voters to please reconsider the K-5 busing item before some small child ends up a statistic attempting to go to or from the John Witherspoon School.

Expecting a youngster to walk 12 miles or 1 and seven tenths miles one way to school sounds fine on paper for one forgets that this is no mere walk through rural territory but a walk through the most distracting, dangerous and crowded area of Princeton.

The traffic on Nassau, Witherspoon, Stockton, Wiggins—in not to mention numerous unpaved in the September 12 even for adult pedestrians to navigate.

I know! I do not have access to an automobile — and have a 5-year-old son who simply is not infallible when it comes to safety! I would not permit him to walk alone 3 blocks down Nassau much less expect him to walk home alone after a tiring day in first grade from the John Witherspoon School.

Physically the walk is not too much to ask — but emotionally a 5-year-old little boy simply can't be expected to cope with the distractions of crowds, chaotic traffic and be immune to fatigue too. Not all mothers have cars — nor are all small children infallible when it comes to remembering pedestrian safety rules when there are so many busy streets to cross — especially with afternoon sun blinding them.

The question is really this — would you let your 5-year-old child or grandchild walk down even 3 or 4 blocks of Nassau Street alone after a tiring day in school? It sounds fine on paper. In reality though you would do as I do — walk with that child to school.

I urge the voters to reconsider the K-5 busing item. It may save a small child's life — the lack of it will certainly and inevitably cost a child's life. Tired children jaywalk and do silly things — and Nassau Street, Stockton, Wiggins, etc. are too dangerous for this sort of behavior.

There won't be a lack of people for K-5 busing after an injury or fatality — but won't it be too late then? Let's act to prevent something tragic — before it occurs. Guarding only some of the intersections and streets is not enough!

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In your report of the meeting of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization, held on Wednesday, September 1, you stated that I was one of a number of speakers who urged support of Vice President Humphrey "as the lesser of two evils." This is not my view, nor did I say anything of the kind at the time. What I did say was this (and I still have my notes):

1. That my position on the war in Vietnam was similar to Senator McCarthy's;
 2. That I had no faith that either of the candidates of the major parties would bring the war to a prompt conclusion sooner than his opponent.

3. That the agony of our cities seemed to me a problem equally compelling;

4. That Hubert Humphrey, and the Democratic Party, had a deeper compassionate and intellectual commitment to the solution of these great urban problems than did their Republican opponents;

5. And that, therefore I proposed to support the entire — Continued On Page 2

Admission of 1,000 Women to Princeton University Urged

The 10-man faculty-administration committee on the education of women at Princeton University has come out 9-1 in favor of admitting at least 1,000 women to the college "as quickly as the necessary funds can be raised."

The final draft of a 56-page report on coeducation, written by committee chairman Gardner Patterson, a professor of economics and international affairs, was released early this week and mailed to all alumni, faculty and students. It concluded that the intellectual, cultural and social advantages of coeducation would far outweigh its cost, estimated by Mr. Patterson at about $25 million.

An earlier draft of the report, leaked to The Daily Princetonian in mid-May, had set 10 years as a target for the enrollment of 1,000 women, some 250 in each class. The final version, however, sets no timetable, urging "as short a transition period as possible" once girls act foot in Nassau's halls.

Approved by 91 percent of the faculty and 83 percent of the students, the report set the 1,000 figure after a study of coeducation at other colleges. The committee wished to maintain Princeton's male enrollment at its present 3,200, and found that a 3-1 male-to-female ratio provided most, if not all, of coeducation's educational benefits.

The Patterson study also advised against a more expensive plan for "coordinate" education, which would set up a "sister school" in the Princeton vicinity with a separate faculty and other resources. Rather, Mr. Patterson wrote, "Princeton should be coeducational from the start, with a single Board of Trustees, a single administration, a single faculty, a single budget and a single curriculum."

Arthur J. Horton, Princeton's Director of Development, concerned primarily with alumni gifts and other financial contributions, was the only member of Mr. Patterson's committee not to endorse his recommendations.

"Princeton's resources are already strained to sustain programs of teaching and research," Mr. Horton noted. "I fear that approval of the Patterson recommendation would have a damaging effect on our overall fund-raising efforts."

The other members of the committee, however, including Dean of the College Edward D. Sullivan and Provost William G. Bowen, "heartily endorsed" the findings and recommendations of the Patterson study, commenting, "On educational grounds, the case for coeducation is overwhelming; and there is no more important basis on which a university can make a decision."

The report was forwarded to the trustees with the "firm endorsement" of Dr. Gohsen, who as late as 1965 had said, "Coeducation would create more problems than it would solve." A trustees committee headed by finance chairman Harold H. Helm '20 will study certain aspects of coeducation and bring the matter to a vote in several months.

TOPICS Of The Town

WHO PAYS?

For Sidewalk Repairs? The question still hasn't been answered, in Princeton Township at least.

Committee introduced Monday night a remodeled version of the ordinance introduced last month and then set aside.

This revised ordinance was also tabled for review. It will be re-introduced at some later date.

The latest ordinance would have required home-owners to repair their sidewalks and pay for the repair if the municipal engineer decided the walks needed fixing. Owner would have 30 days to act.

Olin McGowan, 12 Race, protested that big trees on the Township right-of-way could seriously damage a sidewalk — as they had his own. Why, he asked, should he pay for damage done by a Township tree?

Henry J. Frank, 136 Valley Road, protested that a home-owner might be forced to pay for repairing a walk sloppily installed by some long ago Township contractor.

Mayer Carl C. Schafer protested that he was uneasy about older houses, whose owners long ago had been required to pay the whole cost of sidewalk construction, instead of only half the cost, as new. Why should they pay the whole cost of repair, too?

Attorney Gordon Griffin protested that fairness required some kind of machinery for reviewing individual cases, and that this right should be nailed firmly into the ordinance.

Committeeman William L. Wilson protested that the property-owner's right to question his repair assessment provided the necessary safety-valve. And so the ordinance was tabled.

Committeeman Burton Peskin told the Dog-Leash Community of the P.T.O.-P.T.A. Council that something would be announced shortly on dog control and that the matter was scheduled for discussion in executive session.

Mrs. Harold Kuhn, 74 Woodland Drive, was appointed by Mayor Schafer to join with Committeeman Harry J. Volwieder and Engineer Frank Quinby in a discussion with state officials of danger and safety at the Route 206-Ewing Street intersection.

Mr. Volwieder, who like Mrs. Kuhn lives in the area, suggested that now might be a good time to negotiate with Transcontinental Pipeline for some land where drainage might be installed to relieve the ice-rain conditions at the intersection during winter.

Committee approved agree-

Summer is about to end, with a record of temperatures that have averaged slightly above normal and rainfall that has not come up to the average set by other years.

ment with the state and Montgomery Township providing a traffic linker at the Route 202 Cherry Valley intersection. The state will pay 75% of the installation costs and the two townships will split the rest.

State law requires a Capital Budget from all municipalities. It is flexible and needn't be followed at all, Mayor Schafer explained.

The Township's, adopted Monday, includes money for five road sections, including controversial "Wood Way" in the Longridge subdivision and Terhune Road through the Van Dyke Wright property.

It also includes sidewalks, and Committeeman John Wallace asked people to let him know what they think about new sidewalks in various parts of town.

POLITICS

Rights Committee Proposed.
The two Republican candidates for Township Committee were the spokesmen chosen this week to announce a plan for an advisory committee whose members would prepare recommendations for a permanent Princeton Human Rights Commission.

The plan was developed by Republican Township Mayor Carl C. Schafer, who is running for re-election, and Republican Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson, who is not. The announcement came from Mayor Schafer and from his running mate, Barton Peskin, who is also seeking re-election.

The plan calls for a committee of eight who "would represent various ethnic groups." Four members—two Borough and two Township—would be chosen from recommendations by PAHR, the Princeton Association for Human Rights.

The other four—also chosen two and two, Borough and Township—would represent the Republican and Democratic parties and could, in Mayor Schafer's words, "attempt to get representation from each political party." If the committee wanted an odd number, it could choose the ninth man itself.

The committee would define the purpose, composition, duties, responsibilities and authority of a permanent Human Rights Commission.

Democrats Also at Work.
Thomas Hartmann and James Floyd, Democratic candidates for Township Committee, emphasized youth this week, urging the use of young "interns" at the municipal level.

Mr. Floyd suggested that young interns could work in police departments, learning about law and authority and providing adults with insight into youthful behavior.

"Young people should have responsibility for their actions," commented Mr. Floyd, "and this is one way they can learn to understand that."

He suggested that the Township begin to plan now for next summer when possibly three young interns might be hired. He said there were financial sources available to finance them.

Mr. Hartmann said the Township should work with schools and the Youth Center.

work out an internship program.

He charged that a non-profit organization in Trenton sent a young intern to Princeton this summer, but "Princeton never made use of her. She could have done research, perhaps in the recreation department," Mr. Hartmann said.

... IN THE BOROUGH
Taxes Discussed. Michael Erdman, Republican candidate for Borough Council, reminded Borough residents this week that only 22.4 cents out of the Borough resident's tax dollar goes for local purposes.

"For each dollar collected," Mr. Erdman said, "44.4 cents goes to the schools, 32.2 to the . . ."

Democratic ticket, from Vice-President Humphrey and Congressman Thompson right down to the local level, and I urged my fellow Democrats to do likewise.

Unfortunately, men of the stature of Robert Kennedy and John Lindsay, who have been governed by the compassion-ate approach to urban and racial problems, are few and far between, but Mr. Humphrey's record leads me to hope that he could join their company.

The alternative of turning the country over to those who would solve the urban problems simply by hiring more police, is the "evil" that we must avoid.

county and only 22.4 to the local budget."

He pointed out that county freeholders and the school board, in effect, tell the Borough how much to collect.

"All residents must maintain constant vigilance to restrain unwise or unnecessary spending by all three elected governing bodies," he said.

His running mate on the Republican ticket, Foster Jacobs, reminded Borough residents that the renter is affected by taxes, too.

"Since the property tax constitutes anywhere from 25 to 40% of the cost of operating a rental unit, any increase in property taxes will be passed by the landlord to the tenant."

The candidates cited John Chasko, retired Borough patrolman, as typical of the fixed-income resident most strongly affected by tax increases.

MRS. H.H.H. MEETS PRESS

In Morven News Conference, Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey visited Princeton for the first time in her life last week, joining Mrs. Richard J. Hughes for a press conference at Morven following a ten-car motorcade from Mercer County Airport.

Mrs. Humphrey told some 35 women's editors and reporters that she and her husband at most decided to live in Princeton shortly after they were married. "Hubert was offered two fellowships for graduate school after the University of Minnesota," she recalled.

MRS. HUMPHREY IS PRINCETON GUEST: Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey (left), wife of the Democratic Presidential candidate, spent last Thursday afternoon at "Morven" as the guest of Mrs. Richard J. Hughes (center), Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson chats with the two ladies on the terrace at "Morven."

"One was to Princeton University and the other to Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge. We sat down and talked it over seriously. Eventually we decided on LSU — we thought it would be cheaper to live in Baton Rouge. Survival always had a lot to do with our decisions then."

"Well, I'm happy you finally made it to Nassau Street," Mrs. Hughes remarked.

The Second Lady plans a vigorous campaign in her husband's quest for the Presidency. She admitted that he usually "makes one or two meetings after I've gone to bed," but added that since their campaign began, she's been very happy with five hours of sleep each night.

She also unveiled plans to make several campaign swings of her own, including a trip with Mrs. Edmund S. Muskie, if it can be arranged. "I'd like to concentrate on education," Mrs. Humphrey said. "I want to visit as many remedial centers, vocational centers, Job Corps and Head Start centers as I can."

Mrs. Humphrey also expressed a desire to visit American Indian reservations. "They're the really neglected people in our land," she commented. "We seem to think that they can do everything by themselves. We almost do more overseas to help foreign countries than we do for the Indians, the forgotten people of our time."

While making it clear that she did not consider herself an expert in political science, Mrs. Humphrey used a bit of feminine intuition to predict forthcoming support from Senator Eugene McCarthy.

"Our families have grown up together. I have a feeling that before too long, Gene will be on our side. The differences between his views and my husbands are not so great that, working side by side, the two won't be able to solve the problems, that cause the differences."

While her stop in Princeton was brief, Mrs. Humphrey promised not to be long in returning. She spent several more days with Mrs. Hughes at the Governor's summer home at Sea Girt.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Board to Meet. Parents may examine math textbooks used in all grades of the public school system next Tuesday night.

At the September meeting of the Princeton Regional School Board, to be held at 8 p.m. in Littlebrook School, the board will adopt these texts, formalizing the textbook authorization procedures, as required by state law.

Also on the agenda:

- But routes, with possible changes;
- "Wednesday Afternoon" scheduling report;
- Enrollment report, school by school;
- First report by Russell Stanley, new co-ordinator of personnel activities, comparing teacher registrations this year and last, and telling where the new teachers are coming from.

POST OFFICE TO STAY

"We Didn't Meao It." The U.S. Post Office has no intention of closing its Palmer Square office.

Congressman Frank Thompson Jr. has written to Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson assuring him that Palmer Square will be kept as a finance station and will operate as usual except for carrier services, which will be based in the new post office. The department hopes its new building will be in Princeton Township on North Harrison, near Terhune.

A "finance station," Mr. Thompson explained, means that people can buy money orders and stamps, mail packages and rent locked boxes. The post office department had announced this summer that "Palmer Square would be abandoned" when the new building was built, and Mayor Patterson had written his strong protest to Mr. Thompson. Last week, Borough Council passed a resolution asking the post office department to reconsider.

LET'S DISCUSS SCHOOLS

Public Meeting Next Week. The new Friends of Public Education in Princeton will hold its first public meeting next Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the John Witherspoon School.

Part of the program will be devoted to answers people have given to the two questions asked earlier this month by the Friends:

"Do you think the public schools are generally doing a good job?" and "What changes do you think ought to be made?"

Answers to these questions may still be sent to the Friends, at 391 Lake Drive, Princeton.

Membership categories in the Friends have been established as follows: individual membership, $2 per year; contributing individual, $5; non-profit organizations, $10; profit organizations, $25. Anyone living in Princeton Borough or Township is eligible.

An organization may designate one of its officers to represent it, and he will have the same rights as an individual or contributing member.

Dues may be sent to the Friends of Public Education, in care of George Grace, treasurer, Pretty Brook Road, Princeton.

LOSS HITS $1 MILLION

In Mach Lumber Fire. A fire that raged out of control for several hours, despite the efforts of 18 fire companies from four counties, destroyed a third of Mach Lumber Company's supplies Monday, causing more than $1 million in damage, according to unofficial estimates.

The blaze, which ate up countless stacks of lumber and storage sheds in the company's yard on Ezra Road in East Windsor Township, was reported about 2:15 p.m. by a Mach employee, Hightstown. Fire Chief Fred Torquardt said it apparently ignited in a shed which stored insulation, roofing shingles and miscellaneous lumber. The cause is still unknown.

Elm Road Light Approved

A traffic light will be installed at the intersection of Elm Road, Cleveland Lane and Rosedale Road, according to an announcement this week from State Senator Richard J. Coe. Senator Coe said the state's Division of Motor Vehicles has told him that state approval will come "a long" in the near future.

The engineering plan calls for a realignment of lanes. While the plan is under study, the state will probably authorize Mercer County to go ahead with construction work and sign installation. Senator Coe was informed. The light will work on a standard red-green pattern for the two busy morning hours and the two busy afternoon hours. At other times, the signal will be a caution blinker.

Small fires still burned in stacks Tuesday. Bulldozers were used to push large piles of burning lumber to the rear of the Mach property, where it will be allowed to burn out.

Fire companies from Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth and Ocean counties brought 40 pieces of equipment to the scene. Mach is one of central New Jersey's largest lumber facilities.

ROCKY HILL SAYS "NO"

Opposes Trap Rock Ordinance. Rocky Hill has told Franklin Township it "strongly opposes" the proposed Franklin zoning amendment that would allow Kingston Trap Rock to expand. Rocky Hill's Borough Council unanimously adopted on September 11 a resolution registering its opposition to the ordinance, and informing Franklin's Township Committee that it wants immediate adoption and enforcement of effective controls against the trap rock company's present quarrying operations.

"The citizens of the Borough of Rocky Hill have expressed their objection to the proposed zoning amendment and extension."

SANITY HEARING SOUGHT

For Jose Soto, A special hearing before a Trenton Judge concerning the mental condition of Jose Soto has been scheduled for Friday.

It comes almost seven months after Soto was charged with the murder of Princeton Bank Teller Mrs. Kirsti Pfister in an attempted holdup on February 13. Soto allegedly fired a single shot at Mrs. Pfister, killing her instantly. He fled, and was arrested in New York three weeks later.

The request for a sanity hearing before Judge A. Jerome Moore was made by Soto's attorney, Charles Popkin, a deputy state public defender. Popkin's counterpart, Mercer County Prosecutor John J. Barry, is expected to oppose the request.

Soto is presently being held at the Trenton State Hospital for the Criminally Insane. He was taken there on May 16 after he tried to commit suicide by slashing his wrist with a sharpened metal cup handle in his cell in the Mercer County Jail. Authorities at the jail said later that the cuts were superficial.

POLICE CHARGE MAN

With Stolen Car Possession. Melvin J. Best, 24, 27 Leigh Avenue, awaits action by a Grand Jury after being charged by the Borough police last week with possession of a stolen car.

At a special hearing held Thursday before Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr., Best, who was represented by Public Defender Charles Popkin, was released in his own recognizance. He was also charged with illegal possession of fireworks which police uncovered in the stolen car he was driving.

A juvenile who was with Best at the time of his arrest was released to the custody of his parents.

Acting on information, police spotted the car parked on Clay Street. Sgt. Robert Anderson and Ptl. Douglas Watson, in separate patrol cars, chased Best and caught up to him at Stockton Street and Lovers Lane. Best, an unemployed dishwasher, allegedly told them that he knew the car had been stolen and he was returning it to the owner. Police said the car's plates had been changed.

The car had been stolen from the Hertz Rental Corporation, 33 Walnut Street, Trenton. At the time, the firm was unaware the car was missing, police said.

THROWS EGGS FROM CAR

Youth Fined $20. Angelo Provenzano, 13, 42 Carmichael Place, was fined $20 Monday by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. in Borough Court for throwing raw eggs from a moving car. He pleaded guilty.

TWO WOMEN DROWN
Off Maine Coast. An extra day of vacation in Maine turned out to be a tragic one for two Princeton women, last Tuesday, when both drowned in rough surf off the coast of Mattituck Island.

Miss Marcella Carroll, 29, of 333 Nassau Street, and Miss Kathleen Horne, 25, of 68 William Street, were pronounced dead at a hospital dock in Booth Bay Harbor, where they were taken by the coast guard. The cause of death was given as accidental drowning by a medical examiner.

Miss Horne's younger sister, Jacqueline, 20, of Fort Lee, witnessed the accident but was unable to help. She told police the three girls were sunning on the beach at Burnt Head, a section of the island 12 miles off the Maine coast.

Her sister, Kathleen, saw Miss Carroll in trouble in the surf and ran to help her, while Jacqueline ran for help. She returned and saw Kathleen in the water attempting to reach Miss Carroll with a pair of flippers; before, she, too, disappeared in the waves.

Resuscitation Fails. The girls' bodies were recovered by a lobster fisherman in a boat, accompanied by a visiting doctor who tried to revive them. According to Lincoln County Sheriff William Carter the girls had been staying on the island for a week, and were scheduled to return home the day of the drowning, but stayed an extra day, because of the fine weather.

Miss Carroll was the daughter of Philip T. Carroll, former clerk of the Mercer County Board of Pardoners. A graduate of Princeton H. S. School and Bowling Green College, she spent two years in the Peace Corps.

glewood, attended Fort Lee High School and received a bachelor of arts degree from Bates College in Maine in 1964. For the past four years she was on the library staff of Princeton University.

She is survived by her parents, Thomas and Anita Horne of Fort Lee, two brothers, Thomas and Patrick, and another sister Cecilia, all at home. A requiem high mass was held in Madonna Roman Catholic Chapel in Fort Lee with burial in Madonna Cemetery.

ROUTE 206 IS SAFE
Won't Be Widened. Route 206 between Trenton and Princeton will not be widened to four lanes.

State Senator Richard J. Coffey said this week that David Goldberg, Transportation Commissioner, had assured him the state was not planning to widen the highway.

Re-surfacing of Route 206 on Bayard Lane, from Carter Road to Stony Brook; and from Harney's Corner to Rider College, will be done this fall, the Commissioner said.

HAGADORN FINED $10

For Obstructing Entrance. Richard Hagadorn, 20, of 20 Vandeventer Avenue, was fined $10 and $10 court costs Monday in criminal court by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. for obstructing the entrance one night this summer to Pietriferino's Restaurant, 84 Nassau Street. Mr. Hagadorn denied the charge. Assistant Borough attorney Henry A. Hill said at the outset of the hearing that Mr. Hagadorn was being charged specifically under a clause under section 21.2 of the Borough's disorderly person's code which prohibits anyone from loitering in or about a private entrance in such a manner so as to obstruct the free and public use thereof. This is not the so-called new anti-loitering ordinance but was first written more than 10 years ago and last amended in 1952.

The bulk of the 90 minute hearing was devoted to trying to locate precisely where Mr. Hagadorn was allegedly standing on the night of August 7. P. L. David Alston, the complainant, testified he saw the defendant leaning against one side of an archway leading to the door of Pietriferino's, partially obstructing passage to customers.

Mr. Hagadorn, under questioning from his attorney, Joseph Stonaker, insisted he was standing about a foot and a half away, in a doorway between Pietriferino's and Hinkson's which leads to second floor offices and third-floor apartments. An eight-inch partition separates the two entrances. Two witnesses corroborated Mr. Hagadorn's testimony.

Wherever he may have been standing, P. L. David said that Hagadorn failed to move along when he asked the group of eight youths congregating near Pietriferino's to do so. At most, he said, Mr. Hagadorn moved about a foot to his right.

P. L. Alston further testified that he asked Mr. Hagadorn twice more to move, telling him he was loitering and blocking passage. When he asked him why he remained standing there, he said that Hagadorn had used the word "unconstitutional" in his reply.

At the end of the give and take, Magistrate Tams said Continued on page 12.

Dear Friend:

After the Democratic Convention, I stated my plans to campaign for the election of House and Senate candidates who shared my views regarding the crucial issues of today, particularly with respect to our involvement in Vietnam. Frank Thompson, who has been my friend for many years, is one of these candidates. He has emphatically stated his support for the minority plank on Vietnam and his determination, if he is reelected, to fight to make its principles become national policy. Frank Thompson and I have long worked for progressive measures in both domestic and foreign policy areas. It is to this end that we joined together in 1957 to form the Democratic Study Group.

I am asking your support of Frank Thompson, for I believe that without him in the House of Representatives, the Congress would lose an effective and a senior liberal leader. I hope that those of you who were so generous with your energy and financial support in my campaign will help Frank Thompson's candidacy in every possible way.

Sincerely yours,
Eugene J. McCarthy

m up by saying, "This gets to be a very difficult question. Mr. Hagadorn has apparently chosen to test the right of the Borough of Princeton to pass such laws." After commenting that there was on one hand the police officer's belief that he is acting within the framework of the laws of the Borough when he orders people on the sidewalk to move, he said, "We then come to head with a question that is becoming very difficult and bothersome not only to Princeton but to the entire society: how much should the rights of individuals be subordinated to the right of businessmen to free and unobstructed use of entrances?"

"The officer has charged that the defendant interfered with the free and unobstructed use of the sidewalk and I agree with him. He was doing it on purpose. Certainly, it has been shown he had opportunity to leave peacefully and without being charged. He chose not to.

"In no choosing, he has in essence, told the Borough, 'All right, you don't have the right to tell me to move on.' I choose the right of the Borough of Princeton to tell their citizens they have the right to free use of their sidewalks."

Chief Peter J. McMahon reported at his press conference the following morning that he thought the decision would encourage his officers to issue more summonses. "I always thought this was one of our better ordinances and should be used more often," he said.

ONE DIES, TWO HURT
In Route 206 Crash. A chef at Cap and Gown Club and two other men were injured when their car was involved in an early Sunday morning crash and crashed into a pole about 400 feet south of the Stony Brook Bridge on the Princeton-Lawrenceville Road.

Ernest Simpson Jr., 48, of 409 Alexander Street, a passenger in the front seat, died in Princeton Hospital of a fractured skull at 8:15 a.m. — almost four hours after the mishap. He was unmarried.

Admitted to the hospital's intensive care unit in critical condition with a fractured skull was Murphy Sigler, 47, of Trenton. His condition was described this week by the hospital as fair. Sitting in the back seat with Sigler was Daniel W. McCall, 17, of Trenton, a Trenton High School senior. He received a bump on the head and complained of pains in the stomach. He was admitted to the hospital but released on Monday. All of the victims had been pinned in the car, police said.

Township Police have charged the driver, Jessie J. McMillan, 26, of Trenton with death by auto and reckless driving. He was released in $2,000 bail.

NOTICE

Because of a need early Wednesday to add four pages to accommodate additional news, pictures and advertising, the next four pages of this issue are numbered 12 A, B, C and D, followed, properly enough, by 13. The total number of pages is accordingly 56, and not 52 as the second section — printed earlier — indicates.

McMillan refused medical attention at the hospital. He also refused to give any statements to police about the accident. Instead, they said, he was very belligerent and abusive at the scene.

At the hospital, McMillan, a crane operator at Fairless Hills, had still not calmed down. He continued to use abusive language and allegedly tried to assault Township Ptl. Mario Musso.

He was subdued by Borough patrolmen William Hunter and Robert Maciarelli and taken to Borough Headquarters. There he was charged with assault and using loud and abusive language, and then released to the Township police. The hospital, which straddles the Borough-Township line, is under jurisdiction of Borough police.

Car Total Loss. Ptl. Anthony Pinielli, who investigated the accident, said the McMillan car, a 1965 sedan, was a total loss. He said that skid marks and the excessive damage revealed the car was going at a high rate of speed.

After crossing over into the opposite lane, the car hit a curb and struck an embankment, causing it to spin around and travel backwards. It then struck a pole, tree and iron fence before coming to rest. The tree and fence are located on the property of R. Braddock Dinsmore.

POWER BUGGY STOLEN
From Jadwin Cage Site. A three by eight-foot, rubber-tired power buggy used to haul heavy acetylene tanks was stolen during the weekend from the Jadwin Cage construction site near Washington Road.

"Somebody spotted it inside the cage and drove away with it," said a Township policeman. The buggy, which had a three-horsepower motor attached to it, was valued at $300. Also taken were three acetylene tanks with a combined value of $150.

The theft was reported by Andrew Pencook, foreman for the J. B. Eurrell Company of Lawrenceville, Pa. Ptl. David Potts investigated.

Earlier this month, Elsie MacDougall, an employee of the Princeton Inn, reported that a table radio, electric alarm clock and about $6 in change from a top dresser had been stolen from her room located in the women's section of the Inn's employee dormitory.

She valued the radio at about $65 and the alarm clock at $9. She told Ptl. Michael Kopiner, the investigating officer, that she had been out of her room for only three hours.

Three watches with a total value of $425 were stolen from a display window at Edwards Jewelers in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Police said that apparently someone opened the door on the main side of the store and reached across a narrow glass counter into the show window and removed the watches from their cases, while the store was open. Ptl. Robert Henneck cock investigated.

In the Borough, two new front tires and rims were stolen during the weekend from a 1969 Dodge Charger, parked in the rear of Turney Motors, 235 Nassau Street.

Mechanic Charles Ross discovered the theft at 7:45 Monday morning. Ptl. James Bloor investigated for the Borough police. No value was placed on the tires and rims, but Chief Peter J. McMahon commented: "They're expensive."

In an act of malicious mischief, two boys were throwing a garbage can through a two by six-foot glass window of the front door of Harris' Dept.

Federal Approval. "We look forward to working with you toward an expanded program of low-rent housing in your locale," said the regional office of HUD this week, announcing that it approves the idea of Princeton Township's using the existing Housing Authority of the Borough as its agent in building low-cost housing in the Township.

The Township has started on the required "workable program." Administrator Joseph R. Nini reported Monday night that all Township departments and a Contest. An essay-poster-cartoon-slogan contest open to all primary and secondary school students in Princeton is being sponsored by the Republican Club of Princeton. "Each entrant will receive an award and winners will receive a prize. Details at Republican Headquarters, 9 Nassau. The contest will close October 21.

Meanwhile, the Democrats are giving a party this Sunday for the two Democratic candidates for Township Committee, James Floyd and Thomas Hartman.

The party will be held from 3 to 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Markel, 14 Dodds Lane. Anyone who wishes to meet the candidates is invited to attend, and should call Mrs. John Hine, 921-2090.

MEETING POSTPONED

By Recreation Board. The September meeting of the Joint Recreation Board, scheduled for this Wednesday evening, has been postponed to next Tuesday.

The Board will meet in the social room at Princeton High School at 8:15. The meeting is open to the public.

COLLEGE RECEIVES GRANT

From New Jersey Bell. An unrestricted grant of $1,000 has been awarded to Westminster Choir College by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. The funds were presented to Dr. Lee H. Bristol Jr., Westminster president, by Donald McCormack, Bell Telephone district manager and Robert McGroarty, manager of the Princeton office. The telephone company's unrestricted gifts are in support of higher education in the state. Westminster is currently constructing a residence hall and library.

HOLE IN ONE SATURDAY

Sponsored by PBA. A hole in one competition will be held from 10 to 6 p.m. Saturday at the Springdale Golf Club on Lower Springdale Road. The event is being sponsored by the Princeton Patrons' Benevolent Association which will use the proceeds to help finance its youth programs. First prize will be a color television set. Tickets may be obtained from any Borough or Township patrolman or at the site of the contest.

THOMPSON SUPPORTED

And Fund-Raising Done Set. The Princeton Community Democratic Organization, which supported Senator Edgemoor McCarthy, announced this week its "strong backing" of Congressman Frank Thompson Jr. in his race for re-election. The Thompson-for-Congress Committee is sponsoring a "Tommy's Happening" to be held next Wednesday, September 25, at the Princeton Country Club at 9 p.m.

Dancing, entertainment and refreshments will be on hand for the $35-per-ticket price. Tickets are available from J. Stanley Husid, 392-5104.

Mr. Husid a Trenton resident, is chairman of the committee. Co-chairman is Mrs. Jackson Martindell and committee members are Mrs. Percy Wood Jr., Harvey L. Stern, Mrs. A. N. Spanel, William Masker, Richard Colman, Archibald S. Alexander Jr., Gerald Stockman, Lloyd B. Wescott and Mayor Clement B. Armentrout.

INCENTIVES URGED

For Home Improvements. Sydney S. Souler, Republican congressional candidate from the 4th District, has proposed a federal "tax incentive" program to encourage capital improvements by the private homeowner.

"Too often," Mr. Souler said, "the increased taxes resulting from capital improvements force homeowners to curtail or abandon improvement plans; those that do are penalized in the process. My better way is to allow each homeowner to deduct a percentage of capital improvements from his federal income tax."

"In this way," Mr. Souler continued, "the homeowner, particularly the one with limited income, would not be overly burdened by rising real estate taxes. And everyone knows what a problem local real estate taxes have become."

"In a period of our nation's real and pressing need to encourage individual investment in the maintenance, repair and improvement of private homes—particularly in our cities—it is unfair to penalize those who make such improvements," Mr. Souler concluded.

$733,400 GRANT MADE TO Hopewell Utilities. The U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a grant of $733,400 to help finance a $3 million sewer project in Hopewell Township's Titusville area.

The Township's Municipalities Authority plans construction of a treatment plant a short distance upstream from the point where Jacobs Creek meets the Delaware River, with the capacity to serve 8,500 persons.

Three mains and connecting sewers will serve some 1,900 persons, with provisions for expansion to 17,000. The Hopewell Authority also believes the project will help to cleanse the Delaware.

Plans are now being prepared by Albright and Friel, in Philadelphia, with a $25,900 state loan. Construction planned to begin within six months.

A WEEK-LONG SERIES OF EVENTS, beginning this Saturday, dedicate the $375,000 addition to Princeton Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill and State Roads. Above, photographed from the interior courtyard, are church school rooms at right on the first level, the lounge directly above and schoolrooms beyond under the peaked roofs. The enclosed corridor contains Shirley Lore's drawings of five Unitarians, 15th Century martyr Servetus, scientist-clergyman Joseph Priestly, abolitionist Theodore Parker, social reformer Dorothea Dix and John Young, the young Negro who heads Trenton's storefront "House of Soul," supported by the Unitarians. Diehl Miller Russell designed the addition.

MRS. CALDWELL TO SPEAK ON Vietnam USO. Mrs. Charles S. Caldwell, home on leave until October 5 from her post as associate director of the China Beach USO, South Vietnam, will speak at 8:30 p.m. Friday, October 4, in Pierce Hall of Trinity Episcopal Church. Her topic is "30,000 One-Inch Paint Brushes."

Mrs. Caldwell recently received the Dickey Chapelle Award from the Marine Corps League for her contribution to the Corps in the past year. Although China Beach, in the 1 Corps area near Da Nang, is a Naval installation, the Marines predominate. Mrs. Caldwell's work included evenings spent as a volunteer working with the critically wounded in the Naval Support Activities Hospital.

Mrs. Caldwell will also thank the Vietnam Christmas Gift Committee, a non-denominational group of more than 100 from the Princeton area who last year sent packets containing six or seven small, individually wrapped gifts to each of the 90,000 combat troops in 1 Corps. She will relate how the packets were distributed on Christmas Day.

Volunteers are needed and donations are being solicited for a similar project for Christmas 1968. Beginning Monday, October 7, the work of wrapping and packing will commence at 1 p.m. in Pierce Hall.

Mrs. William Selden is chairman. Assisting her are Mrs. Sydney Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. James Garwarth, Mrs. George Tschetoboroff, Mrs. Richard S. Fowler and Mrs. John Byrn.

Lakes, ponds, streams and trees accent our special Fall offerings this week as added, appreciated features.

About 200 years ago an attractive Colonial house was built in the center of what is now quaint and peaceful Griggstown. Naturally many improvements have been added, but the beam ceilings remain. There are fireplaces in living room, den and dining room. 4 bedrooms. Additional 2-room unfinished area with separate entrance (for mother-in-law?). Rear screened porch (width of house) overlooks secluded landscaped garden. A friendly stream borders the 2-acres (plus) grounds. $42,000

Tall trees reflect their images in the pond which is part of the 5-acre setting for this modified Cape Cod in sought-after Gravers Mill. The 13x23' living room has a fireplace. Dining room, kitchen, den, shop and utility area. 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths. Finished 3rd floor room. Attached garage. $50,000

Sailboats, rowing sculls and winter skaters all share the seasonal views you'll see from the screened porch of brick front Cape Cod. You're right in Princeton Twp. facing Lake Carnegie, 4 bedrooms. Very new kitchen. Interior in perfect condition. Wall-to-wall carpet. $42,000

It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as often, all the standard SAAB safety features.

As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

You can drive it like a big car.

TOWN TALK

It looks suburban, it feels suburban, it acts suburban. But — it is not suburban. So close to town, yet with that "country air" taste. This 2 story home tells you it is bright from the moment you enter the front sunroom, exposed from 3 sides, till you leave its jalousied rear porch. Four living rooms with fireplace, separate dining room, large kitchen and pantry are on the first floor. The second floor has 4 bedrooms and bath. Full basement, 2 car garage. News of The Theatres

JUDY COLLINS IS BACK

Will Be. Judy Collins' third appearance in Princeton will be, as usual, in Alexander Hall on the University campus. The folk singer will appear on Friday, October 18 at 8, and tickets are on sale at the McCarter box office. McCarter's fall folk program will present three leading pop artists in their Princeton debuts. Donovan will be at McCarter Theatre Monday, October 28 (tickets on sale now); Richie Havens will check in at Alexander Hall on Friday, November 15 and Country Joe and the Fish will be at Alexander on Saturday, November 23.

INTIME MAKES PLANS

With Variety. Eugene Ionesco's "The Killer" has been scheduled as the first play of the season by Princeton University's undergraduate Theatre Intime.

Frederic O'Brady, of the University's French department, will direct this dark story of a phantom murderer who haunts and hunts in a shabby suburb. The play will begin on October 31, November 1, 2, 7, 8 and 9. Subsequent productions will offer Eugene O'Neill's "Long Days Journey Into Night"; Ben Jonson's "The Alchemist"; parts than in others. Lee Meredy is sexy and funny as a non-English speaking secretary to Motel. Less funny and rather strained is the heavily-handed treatment of the "show's homosexual director," played humorously by Christopher Hewett dressed like a woman, and of his effeminate assistant. It is not a family film.

In its Directors' Showcase Series, Theatre Intime will present plays that have aroused the special enthusiasm of the group's directors. One production will offer two plays that poke mordant fun at the academic world: Aristophanes' "The Clouds" and Ionesco's "The Lesson."

In "The World of Carl Sandburg," Intime audiences can hear some of the poet's unpublished verses as well as old favorites.

"Slow Dance on the Killing Ground," by William Hanley, is another play scheduled for the Showcase series.

Information about subscriptions may be obtained by writing the theatre in Princeton, or calling 452-8181.

HERE COMES "WILDCAT"

To Pennington Next Week. The Broadway musical, "Wildcat," will be presented next week by the Prevue Players of Pennington.

Opening Thursday, September 26, it will be given again Friday and Saturday nights at St. James Catholic Church. Audrey Harcar, a Trenton resident who has been seen in the educational television series, "Attorney at Law," will have the leading role.

PLAYHOUSE

With Six You Get Eggroll (now playing) marks a major change in the film career of Doris Day. The theme of "The Constant Virgin" has been thrown to the winds, in favor of one portraying Miss Day as a widow with three sons actively pursuing Brian Keith, a widower with a daughter.

After a series of complications, many precipitated by the children, who do not like the match, they sneak away and get married in Las Vegas. The problems of trying to unite the children into one family occupy the rest of the film with a series of entertaining adventures, some of which were carried a trifle too far.

The laughs are fairly frequent throughout, however, and the picture measures up as a suitable one for family entertainment.

GARDEN AND GREENWOOD

The Producers (now playing) is a comedy-farce starring Zero Mostel, Dick Shawn and newcomer Gene Wilder.

Mostel is the Broadway producer who has had a series of flops. The drab little bookkeeper, Gene Wilder, suggests that he raise huge sums of money which he can keep since no one expects any returns from a flop. Together they search out what must be the worst script in history, a musical about Hitler. The plans are thrown by Dick Shawn, who comes on as a genuinely funny "hippie" Hitler.

The farce is funnier in some

IT'S NEW To Us

UP FROM THE BEACHES
To The Fashion Shows. "If you are going to get married, wait!" This is the advice Robert Albert, owner of Stacy's, gave fashion show audiences last week at Stacy's Suburban Shop in Lawrence Shopping Center.

"We are going to open our new store in the Mall in 3-4-5 months, next to Dunham's. It will be three times the size of this store and we think it's going to be the most elegant in the entire state of New Jersey. We're going to include a complete bridal salon — so girls, wait!"

Those who can, should. There's a fine sense of femininity and a comfortable price for the bride in the Stacy fall collection that augurs well for the bridal salon.

Stacy's casual clothes include a number of quick-change-artist numbers that obviously meet the needs of the woman who's up squeezing oranges at 7 and off to a meeting at 10. These are the pantsuits that come equipped with a blouse and skirt as well.

Chalky narrow stripes slim down a grey, four-piece outfit tagged at $65. The slacks are supple, well-tailored; the skirt, worn with the jacket, blends into Madison Avenue.

For the dreamer, there's an Edwardian pantsuit in black with extravagantly gathered lace jabot and cuffs. With the skirt included, it's $90.

Off on another tack, Stacy's showed Gino Paoli's swinging cape and slacks ensemble. The neon pink cape is fingertip length with patch pockets (in the back so you don't use them) and a double line of front buttons from neck to hem. With it, there's a solid sweater and plaid slacks cross-hatched in the same warm, bright pink, all priced at $149.

The leather coats are slim waisted, flaring, modeled with high, tight boots. A blue-green suede coat from Israel, soft as velvet and slimly belted, is one of these coats that "wait" well. The suede pigskin coat by Highlander at $145 has an easy fit, shaped at the waistline.

Ensembles, however, are the basic theme of the Stacy collection. The intriguing "cat look" is supplied by a jaguar-trimmed dress, with a five-eighths length matching coat worn with a jaguar toque. It's something over $300.

There's a white fur ascot on a $225 Victor Jury ensemble with a fur hem softly billowing out from a quietly simple dress. One of the "fakes" is a broadtail jacket cut to the hipbone, paired with an elegantly plain dress adorned only by a flat bow several inches below the high neckline.

Among the knits you'll find a brown coat frosted with lamb to be worn with a matching long-sleeved dress kept starkly simple to accent a jewel. The price is $199. The red-red coat dress (some call the color "vibrant") is a stunner.

For quieter types, Stacy has a beige knit ensemble, the coat delicately trimmed with dark braid, which is amusingly repeated on the creases of the back pleat of the dress.

Some of the most elegant offerings are designed by Geoffrey Beene in the kind of understatement that makes a dress almost timeless. (While most of the Stacy hemlines are a fairly firm 3" above the knee, the Beene hem touches the kneecap.)

His white afternoon dress is absolutely unadorned, but cut to perfection. A grey flannel coat and dress at $189, perfect for town or travel, is highly sophisticated — and simple.

Among the notable evening things are Adele Simpson's brocade dress and jacket, the dress Empire-waisted with a boat neckline cut fairly low. Also a long, sequined gown that seems almost alive, catching light with a thousand spontaneous twinkles. Its full skirt is cinched by a wide soft belt. Two hundred and fifty dollars, with the jacket.

Puff brocade, pale blue on beige, comes in a gently flaring short coat with a matching dress, a beautiful, delicate, romantic design. A change of pace is the long, pale silk gown with a jewel-encrusted yoke and deep, jeweled cuffs at the end of tight sleeves. The gathered skirt has a bowlike belt. It's chic and charming, and the cost is $179.

Bellevue Loves Fogarty. On Friday, Anne Fogarty's fall collection was modeled informally at Bellevue while customers enjoyed hot coffee and cookies. A fashion leader since the late 1940's, she designs for women like herself, women with good figures who love sculptured lines and interesting fabric.

MUSIC In Princeton

ORCHESTRA TRIMS PLANS
Scheduling Tightened. The Princeton Chamber Orchestra will run a spring season only this year, starting in January and ending in April.

In the past, the orchestra has had a split season consisting of two months each, in fall and spring.

Under the new arrangement, the orchestra's professional musicians can sign up with other music groups for the autumn season when they are not rehearsing or working with the Princeton Chamber Orchestra.

Nicholas Harsanyi, music director and conductor of the Princeton group, said this week that the 1969 tour season has been completely sold out of all 50 scheduled performances.

Princeton performances of the orchestra will be on January 21, February 17 and March 24, all in McCarter Theatre. Programs will be announced shortly.

GUITAR, STITAR
And Piano. Guitarists, the world's foremost stitar, three pianists and a return of P.O.Q. Bach will enliven the "Music at McCarter" series this fall and spring.

"Music at McCarter" is open on a subscription basis only to registered Princeton University undergraduates, graduate students and their families. Remaining singles go on sale to the public at the theatre box office about three weeks before each concert.

John Williams will launch the series on Tuesday, November 19, with a return engagement. Australia's master guitarist is the principal protégé of Segovia.

Christoph Eschenbach, the brilliant young German pianist, will give his first concert in the United States on Monday, January 20, in McCarter.

Artur Schnabel will come back to Princeton's Dillon Gym for a concert Sunday afternoon, February 2. Tickets for this recital will go on sale early in November.

P.D.Q. Bach, an evening of recently discovered masterworks that never were, will return to harass Princeton music lovers on Tuesday, February 25.

Ravi Shankar, sitarist, with Alla Rakha, tabla, will appear in McCarter Monday, March 17.

Peter Serkin, one of the leading pianists of his generation, will perform in McCarter on Monday, April 21.

She has a skillful way of making an average waistline look tiny, and when she hits upon a design that conveys her particular carefree elegance, she then, like Mozart, settles into variations on the theme.

Her clothes have a look that's different from anybody else's, is the comment of Stitar Bellows. "They're understated. They're now."

Parent-Child Emphasis Key to New Concept Of Christian Education by First Church

First Presbyterian Church is about to begin a new concept in Christian Education founded upon recognition of the fact that parents actually teach their children far more about their regard of Christianity than they realize.

"Children cannot help absorbing the standards, attitudes, values and beliefs of their parents," the Rev. Eliot A. Daley, associate minister, said in announcing the program. "The Committee on Christian Education has acknowledged this relentless and all-important teaching-learning relationship as the fundamental character of Christian nurture."

"It has developed a program of Christian education which will enable the parents to discover what they are in fact teaching, and to discover what are appropriate learnings for their children as they come to regard themselves as Christian."

Church — Family Effort. The 26-member Committee, chaired by Frederick T. Richards, included representatives of the session, church youth, the women's association and the clergy. The co-operative church family program will be launched September 29; discussions with parents are now being held after the Sunday worship services.

Acting as a core to the new program are six professional Christian educators, serving on a part-time basis. Parents of each child will serve as teachers' aides and observers in their child's classroom for one month during the school year. They will assist the teaching core, known as "lead teachers."

Parents will be introduced to the program during monthly workshops, scheduled by the lead teachers. Parents will choose their month of service and their child's classroom schedule of 9 a.m. or 11 a.m.

Previous Schools. According to the Rev. Mr. Daley, the new program will overcome three handicaps of previous church schools:

(1) The task of teaching has sometimes fallen upon volunteers whose primary talents lay elsewhere, putting a heavy burden of preparation upon them;

(2) The substantial turnover of teachers, even within a given school year. A

A NEW FORMAT for Christian education is being introduced at First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Eliot A. Daley and the Christian Education Committee. Parent discussions will be held in the chapel Sunday after worship services.

News Of The CHURCHES

typical student, coming sometimes at 9 and sometimes at 11, has been exposed to as many as 20 quite different church school teachers over the course of five or six years — making it difficult to achieve continuity of learning;

(3) With a large number of children following random patterns of attendance in the past, any given child arriving on a Sunday morning may have been plunged into a group of students, many of whom were relative strangers. This made creation of a stable learning group difficult, if not impossible.

Continuity. Under the co-operative church family program, "the student" may complete nine years (from age 3 through the 6th grade) with no more than five teachers (lead teachers), giving him a chance to get to know and trust each of them over a two-year span — and the context of a class will be composed of the same students from week to week," the Rev. Mr. Daley comments.

"The classroom experience sets a theme," he adds. "Most importantly — the very heart of the program — it provides an introduction to, and discussion of the possibilities for the parents' own continuation, expansion and enrichment of the Christian nurture of their child."

"In its role as theme setter, the classroom experience will then be seen in context — not the sole, or even the primary bearer of responsibility for the Christian nurture of the child, but rather one resource among many by which families can inform and shape the direction in which their often unintended teachings lead their children's convictions."

Workshops. As resources for the parents, there will be a series of classes for parents of children of different age groups. These will be co-led by a pediatrician, a psychologist and a religious educator, aiming for a fruitful understanding of the child's physical, psychological and religious growth.

In this context, an analysis of the constant transactions between parents and children may provide immediate and meaningful understanding of religious words such as "guilt," "forgiveness," "judgment," and "reconciliation" as they develop in the joys and trials of family life. Parents will have an opportunity to see themselves with their children by a video tape recording taken during classroom sessions. The church library, with two professional librarians, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Bennett, in charge, is developing a material resources center which will provide parents with books, film strips, records, tape recordings, television preview information and television viewing guides. There will be a variety of materials available to help parents interpret a birth or a death to family members of all ages.

Community Role. The final component of the program, "and probably the one with the most enduring effect," the Rev. Mr. Daley notes, will be provision for the children to observe their parents at work in community service projects.

"There is still need to organize specific, concentrated action projects in which several generations of church members can work side by side... regardless of the cost in time, money and comfort to ourselves."

"In the last analysis, if our children do not learn — by observation — that we believe that we are called to do that, whatever else they might learn in the classroom might well be superfluous."

Members of the committee on Christian Education include William P. Alston, Mrs. Arthur M. Byers Jr., Richard D. Chailner, William E. Coffman, William S. Dix, Mrs. W. Frederick Stohman and Mansfield W. Williams, all of the church session; Leslie Vial, youth representative; Mrs. Richard A. Katen of the Women's Association, Mrs. Albert C. Chenick, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Speedy.

Quit Stewing.

Sure there's a lot to stew about.

Crawling in traffic going to work or coming home . . . trying to afford a son or daughter in college out-of-state because there's no room in Jersey . . . knowing over a thousand people a year are being killed on dangerous roads we haven't modernized in more than 30 years . . . commuting in dreary, crowded trains with old engines that often conk out . . . putting our mentally sick on waiting lists because institutions are jammed . . . watching slums crumble when private enterprise could do a bigger rebuilding job.

All true. But we don't have to vote for more taxes to build ourselves up. We can turn to BONDS, THE MASTER BUILDER. Come November we'll be voting on three bond issues: $640 million for transportation, $337.5 million for education and institutions; and $12.5 million to spur private building of inner-city housing.

VOTE YES ON NEW JERSEY BONDS.

What can you do besides vote yes? Join the New Jersey Bonds Yes Committee, Suite H, Hotel Robert Treat, Newark. You'll be part of a citizens team working to build a better New Jersey.

Yes, I want to join the Bonds Yes Committee.

Cointreau to Move To Lawrence Site

Cointreau Ltd., makers of some 20 cordials, including the famous after-dinner liqueur which bears the firm's name, will soon move into a $1.5 million plant in Lawrence Township's Princeton Pike Industrial Park after expending difficulties at its present national headquarters in Pennington.

According to general manager Albert J. Wise, the Lawrence plant will employ some 150 people in full operation, mostly holdovers from the Pennington building on West Franklin Avenue. The offices and blending facilities in the old plant were substantially damaged by a 1967 fire.

Cointreau first decided to expand about two years ago, but was unable to acquire space in its original location. Lured to Lawrence by the amendment of an ordinance against the manufacture of alcoholic beverages, the firm now holds a 20-acre site, but will have half of it for future expansion needs.

The official opening of the 116,000 square foot building will be held in October, when Jacques M. Cointreau, founder of the company's American plant, will journey to Lawrence from Angers, France. Cointreau also operates seven other facilities in Europe and South America.

Besides its line of liqueurs, the company will use its Lawrence plant to bottle two Scotch whiskeys for a sister firm, the Medley Distilling Company in Owensboro, Ky.

including their distinct features, such as number of bedrooms, style, acreage, price, etc. House seekers will tell the Weidel salesman what features they are looking for in a house, and this will be fed into the computer.

With the usual computer accuracy and speed, cards listing all the houses which fit the buyer's description will be delivered by the Electronic Home Selector. Weidel's 60 sales representatives located in four offices will use the method, which is calculated to save the buyer many hours of search.

Richard A. Weidel, realtor of Karl Weidel, Inc., said that the computer has been installed in the firm's Hopewell Township office on Route 31, and is available to home buyers and sellers now. Weidel handles real estate in Mercer, Bucks, Hunterdon, Burlington and Monmouth counties.

A-1 HEADQUARTERS OPEN

In Scotch Plains. The recently-expanded A-1 Employment Service opened enlarged headquarters at 219 Park Avenue, Scotch Plains, last week to coordinate branch offices in Princeton, New Brunswick, Union and Caldwell.

Founded in 1962 by Mrs. Audrey Hull, now president of the New Jersey Association of Private Employment Agencies, the firm now employs more than two dozen specialists in job placement, to rank as the fastest-growing of more than 300 employment agencies within the state.

The firm recently added Temporary and Business Services to supplement the company's regular work in finding permanent career positions. The temporary division supplies clerical, secretarial and other help for peak business periods, while the business service provides complete printing and reproduction facilities for business organizations.

THREE FIRMS ENTERED

In Good Neighbor Contest. Three Princeton business firms have been nominated in the ninth annual "New Good Neighbor" Contest, co-sponsored by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association and its magazine, "New Jersey Business."

The businesses are the Princeton Professional Center, Princeton Professional Association, and the architectural firm of Collins, Uhl & Hoisington.

A judging committee will meet at NJMA headquarters in Trenton, Wednesday, September 25, to select ten winners on the basis of economic value to the area, beauty of buildings and grounds and the company's community efforts.

TIGERS TAKE SHAPE

As Rutgers Oponer Nears, One position in the offensive line and two or three in the defensive secondary remain up for grabs as the traditional opening game against Rutgers' Tigers for Princeton's 1968 football team. Both camps are optimistic, and good weather next Saturday, September 28, should see close to 40,000 on hand in Palmer Stadium.

The battle for shortline guard continues between junior Mike Guerin and sophomore Steve Saner. It is the only vacancy created by graduation, and it is a sign of over-all offensive strength that a letterman and the top lineman on last year's good freshman team are both available for the position.

Saner at 215 has a 55-lb. weight advantage on Guerin, but the coaching staff understandably tends to rely on experience. Guerin, however, winning a letter last fall in his first year on the varsity all-around, has a fair case of that. He was a backup man for Joe Preschi on the other side of the line last year.

No final decision is expected until the early part of next week. If Saner should get the nod, the Tigers' offensive line will average about 215, undoubtedly the biggest in the history of Princeton football.

The Tiger forward wall against Rutgers will consist of senior Mike Garton 210 pounds, and junior Mark Bins, 195, ends; seniors Dave Hantz, 240, and Bruce Eckman, 205, at tackle; senior Joe Preschi, 207, and either junior Mike Guerin, 188, or sophomore Steve Saner, 215, at guards; and senior Bob Slivinski, 229, at center.

Backfield Firmly Set. The veteran, all-lettermen backfield, operating behind an experienced line, is expected to keep the Tigers at least as well represented on the scoreboard this year as last, when they averaged better than four touchdowns per game. Coach Dick Colman thinks that Captain Rich Bracken, beginning his third season as the Tigers' regular tailback, "could be one of the top running backs in the east."

The inside outside punch that fullback Ellie Moore will provide with a five-toothed Tigers' hope for matching the power that quarterback Brian Dwyer and fullback Gil Hill give Yale. Moore played only seven games last season because of a tendon injury in his leg but nonetheless led Princeton in rushing and scoring, setting Princeton and Ivy records with a five-touchdown performance against Harvard.

Dan White, hustled into a starting berth as a sophomore was was Bracken because of an injury to the ranking player ahead of him, gives the Tigers experience at this position as a junior—something they have not had for a number of years. He is a lightning play selector and good blocking back.

At wingback, senior Jim Koloski provides the three back alternatives requisite for this position: ability to block, to receive passes and to run with better than average speed. He holds the Princeton record for the 440-yard hurdles in track.

The reserve unit will consist of junior Scott MacBean, tailback; sophomore Chris Montromery, fullback; junior Jon Wright, quarterback; and either junior Denny Kelly or sophomore Pete Hauck at wingback.

Montgomery and Hauck are the cornerstones of the defense. The latter is a triple-threat—he can pass, thus posing a problem for the defense that can raise hob with its plans for stopping a fullback who only runs with the ball, and he will handle the placekicking assignments. In this respect, he appears to have edged out senior Ted Garcia, the side-footed artist who was troubled by inconsistency last year.

Defuse the Question Mark. Outcome of the Rutgers game will hinge to a great extent on how well the Princeton defense, largely being rebuilt in the secondary, can handle the Scarlet attack. Quarterback Bruce Van Ness and the fleet-footed Bryant Mitchell figure to give Princeton problems throughout the afternoon.

The Tigers' front five is set: Jim Nixon and Tom Hutchinson, ends; Bob Hews and Tim McCann, tackles; and Dick Sandler, middle guard. Firm staying assignments at the line: backing, cornerback and the deep back positions have yet to be made in some cases.

A personnel switch has strengthened this platoon, with the conversion of sophomore fullback John Hess to cornerback. His rugged 6-3, 198-lb. build figures to aid in a variety of ways, particularly on pass defense.

PHS FOOTBALL — III
(This is the last of three articles on Princeton High School's football prospects for 1963.)

"We're Searching More." The day before his team's first outside scrimmage last week against Southern Freehold High School, Princeton High School coach Dick Wood when asked how the team had been shaping up in that position, replied, "We're searching a little more this year. We seem to have a lot of possibilities but for some positions we haven't found the right people yet."

One reason Wood and his seven-man coaching staff have been forced to search is the size of the squad itself. It's big — in fact, the biggest ever at PHS. "I don't know the exact count but I know it's over 100," reported Wood. The total includes 35 freshman candidates.

Not all spots are question marks, either. The backfield is firm with three returning lettermen — Nick Aronro at tailback, John Madden at fullback and Dave Drake at quarterback. The sole spots around which the shuffling of candidates will center are mainly in the interior line and defense.

Like the squad, the coaching staff is the biggest ever. Actually it's a six and a half man staff instead of seven because Jack Houtenville will, according to Wood, devote only half-time to the sport. He is chief scout for the team.

Back again will be defensive coach Tom Murray, who has done such a standout job the last two years, and Larry Ivan who will coach the juniors. Freshmen coach Ron Dade will be joined by newcomer Frank Francisco. An electronics teacher at the PHS, Francisco played his football at Dover High School in New Jersey.

Two more newcomers to the staff will coach the sophomores. They are Earl Owens, who played on elevens at MURRAY FOR THE DEFENSE: Tom Murray will pick up where he left off last year and guide the defense for the Princeton High School football team.

Hamilton High School and later at Trenton State College, and Marvin Trotman.

One of the Best. The latter is readily familiar to long-time followers of sports at PHS. Trotman was one of the best basketball players ever to come out of Princeton High when he was playing in the early '50s, but he was a real good football player as well.

Like the squad, the coaching staff is the biggest ever. Actually it's a six and a half man staff instead of seven because Jack Houtenville will, according to Wood, devote only half-time to the sport. He is chief scout for the team.

What is the outlook, then, for the Little Tigers this season? Will they be able to equal or better their fine 7-2 mark of last year?

On balance the team appears to have a lot going for it. It has depth, although not as much experienced depth (nine returning lettermen) as Wood would have liked. It's backfield is three-fourths tested and the fourth spot — wing back — has an abundance of capable candidates vying for the position.

It has an excellent place-kicker in Chris Gartner (22 of 23 last year) for an edge in evenly-fought contests. It has that large coaching staff, and three experienced linemen in Joe Fischer, Barry Heringer and Charles Sweigart to help anchor a line that will need anchoring.

There was a sizeable scare thrown at the PHS camp when Fischer came down with an infection during the summer and did not report. Wood reported, however, that doctors have assured him Fischer will be ready to play by the time of the opener September 28 at Hamilton. "I don't think there will be any problems there," he said.

Still another asset is its mastery of the single wing which forces the opponent's defense to make adjustments for the unfamiliar formation. "We'll use the T about 10 percent of the time to keep the defense off balance," said Wood. "The T," he continued, "gives us a chance to run the play pass on offense which we can't do with the single wing. It doesn't have that fakery."

Schedule Tougher. In essence, the potential and ability of the present PHS squad would seem to be a carbon copy of last fall's team. The biggest unknown factor in Wood's opinion will be the schedule. Although it is identical to 1962, Wood believes it will be harder because the teams appear stronger.

The Little Tigers start off with three slingers. For its opener at Hamilton, PHS will face a team that has not had a losing season in the past three years under its aggressive and astute young coach Dave Bryan. What's more, the Hornets have 20 returning lettermen — enough to allow Bryan for the first time to use a two platoon system full scale.

Second, also away, is Ewing. The team Wood predicts will be the team to beat in Mercer County. Ewing rebounded from a 1-6-1 record to a 7-1 mark in 1962. It's lone loss was a 20-0 setback to PHS but despite this, it finished higher in the season-end ranking than Princeton.

This, of course, rankled the Little Tigers a great deal. (PHS did win the mythical Mercer County Championship, though. We got a 42-inch trophy to prove it, said Wood.) If the Blue and White hopes to atone for the injustice, however, it will have to come up with a superior performance.

Volkswagen leaps into the present.

With a fully automatic transmission

If you bet a friend we never would, we almost didn't.
10 years ago the decision was made. To design a fully automatic transmission. The kind you put in, drive and forget. Our aim was to make things easy, but for us changes aren't easy to make.
Especially in this case. There were certain things we just didn't want to lose. Like horsepower, and our reputation for being economical.
What we've ended up with is a 3-speed automatic transmission that's pure Volkswagen—designed from scratch to keep the most out of the VW with the least expenditure of effort.
It has the fewest moving parts. — It's the lightest per horsepower output. And it's incredibly sensitive. A model airplane engine is powerful enough to turn it.

So come see how far Volkswagen has come.
The Squareback and Fastback. Both have disk brakes, an electronically controlled fuel injection system, and now, a fully automatic transmission.
If you're interested, it's available as an option on our '69 models.
If you're not interested, we sure went to a lot of trouble for nothing.

CAN HE DO IT AGAIN? Princeton mail carrier Jack Esche not only correctly forecast Princeton University's football record last year, he was the only one in TOWN TOPICS' "Question of the Week" to predict its three losses to Cornell, Yale and Dartmouth. For his estimate of the Tigers' success in 1968, see below (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: How many games Yale is going to be as good as you think the Princeton University football team will win this year?

Where asked: Around town.

Jack Esche, Taylor Terrace, Hopewell, Princeton mail carrier. Seven. They'll lose to Dartmouth and Yale. Yale should win the Ivy League easily and Dartmouth is just a plain tough team. That's it. They seem to give Princeton trouble all the time. The three or four players who were supposed to come back and aren't this year will hurt them. The big question mark is fullback. If Moore gets hurt, it will hurt the entire team.

Joe McManimon, Princeton Junction, plumber. I've heard the team is in good shape physically, but I think they'll lose to Yale, Rutgers and Dartmouth. Dartmouth has been tough since 1935 when they played in a blizzard. I saw that game as a kid. I also saw the 1961 hurricane game. Princeton came into that game undefeated and won, 13 to 7.

Bob Chambers, 16 Maple Avenue, half of C & C Paint. Seven. . . they'll lose to Dartmouth and Yale and win the rest. Yale is definitely going to give them problems. . . too much backfield there. Princeton's had no injuries so far, so they should be pretty strong.

Bill Cavanaugh, 150 Spruce Street, second half of C & C Painters. I feel they'll lose to Yale and Dartmouth. I think

2 of 15 Right on Target

Of the 15 people polled by TOWN TOPICS last year, only two predicted that Princeton would win six and lose three in 1967. Senator Harry Fuller of Patton Hall said the Tigers would win the first six and lose the last three to Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth. This was almost but not quite the perfect forecast by Jack Esche, Princeton mail carrier, who correctly named the losses to Cornell, Yale and Dartmouth. The majority had picked the Tigers to win seven or eight.

TOWN TOPICS returned to Mr. Esche this year and he appears to be following his last sentence a year ago when he said: "I look for them to rebuild this year and be good next year." He is picking Princeton to win seven this fall.

Yale. Yale will win the Ivy League title. With Van Ness in there and if he doesn't get hurt, Rutgers is going to get big headache for Princeton. Yale. . . anybody can win that; it's such a big rivalry, but I still have to go to toward Yale.

Tom Johnson, 35 Park Place, head of R. F. Johnson: The Tigers could go all the way except for Yale. That one's a loss-up. The defense looks good but the offensive line needs some ironing out. With their returning backs, the Tigers should have no trouble scoring. With a break in the Yale game they could go on.

Ewing lost the bulk of last year's squad returning.

Brian Taylor Returns. Outgoing No. 3 will be against visiting Perth Amboy, which blanked PHS last year, 21-0, and is led by its superb quarterback Brian Taylor. Taylor, who had left his school to the state championship in basketball in his class — scoring 84 points in one game — is back again. "Perth Amboy's coach is trying a little bit over the number of men he lost, but I know he is going to be strong," said Wood.

Trenton and Colonia which follow will be less arduous. Trenton is still trying to find itself after a series of disastrous years and second-year coach Frank Caporaso isn't holding out for much improvement over last year's winless season. But the fact that they haven't won any of their last 10 might make the Tornados difficult to stir up trouble. "Colonia's got to be better," said Wood.

Colonia is a relatively new school and still building its football foundation. It fell, 38-0, to the Little Tigers last year and Wood remarked, "It was the only game in a long time that I set back and watched." East Brunswick, which will be pointing to the Blue and White when the latter invades their home town being shocked the Bears, 20-13, last year. "It was the most exciting game of the season and our team came in a couple of years," recalled Wood. "They're always strong," he said of East Brunswick, which had counted Perth Amboy among its victims.

Next are two area rivals, Steiner and Notre Dame, both hoping to improve on so-so seasons last year. East Brunswick dipped 13-5 and the usually potent Irish only won half of their eight games. "I think they'll both be better," said Wood.

The final game with Madison Township, which upset PHS last year, 12-9, will be an historical game for Madison. PHS will mark the last opponent Madison Township will play as Madison Township. In just 10 years the school has grown so big that it will split the two offshoots will play each other. A lot of sentiment will be riding on this one — from both ends.

9-0 Unlikely. So, much as Wood would to win them all, it doesn't appear likely. It appears that PHS may stub its toe against Ewing or Perth Amboy, lose one of two difficult back-to-back contests but not both.

A second loss, either at the hands of East Brunswick or Madison would not be a total surprise. In fact, it boils down to what Dick Wood said himself in August: "Barring injury, I think our chances are as good as they were last year."

NEW SEASON AT HAND
For PHS Football Team, The Princeton Day School football team will open a new season on a new football field next month, with several new players, but the same program that blocked the way to a winning record last year remains.

New Club, Old Champion

Former two-time Springdale champion Arthur Schwartz captured top honors at Bedens Brook Sunday, and became the first golfer to hold the title at both clubs.

Schwartz fired seven birdies in 31 holes to defeat Alan Meade, 6 and 3, in the final round. He had begun the 36-hole match play in inauspicious fashion, losing the first two holes, but won four in succession beginning with the fifth, and increased his lead from there. He was 7 up after 27.

On his way to the finals, Schwartz defeated Don Wilson, 5 and 4, and edged Bill Chalvers, 1 up.

How does a small, comparatively light and, in many cases, inexperienced squad compete effectively against the larger and stronger teams fielded by the majority of its opponents. Beginning his fifth year as the Panthers' head coach, Dan Barren is doing his best to find the answer, but he isn't predicting any miracles.

At the moment, Barren would be satisfied if he didn't lose any more players before the opening contest against Hun, Friday, October 4. Pre-season losses of personnel counted upon as starters are normal for any team, but with PDS's thin 25-man squad, the problem is more acute.

Before practice even began last week, Barren learned that senior Frank Andrews, a stalwart on defense last year and an excellent possibility for light end with his blocking ability, had transferred to Pennington Prep. Also not returning are David Vomacka, a strong candidate for end and defensive halfback, out for medical reasons, and Bob Wilme, a top performer on the wrestling team, who decided to forgo football this fall.

Page Injured. Added to this is an unfortunate injury to co-captain Craig Page, who stepped on a nail over the summer, puncturing an artery in his foot, and is still on the mend. Barren expects Page to be ready in time for Hun, but the loss of valuable practice a time when he is making a key transition from halfback to running the squad as quarterback will not help matters.

The squad averages out to a young one, with 17 freshmen and sophomore on the roster of 25 players. Not all the sophomores are new to varsity competition, however. Some saw action last year as freshmen.

The Panthers again will be outweighed by most of their opponents in the line, but Barren is hopeful that the squad will average a few more pounds than last year's which was around 158-160. A junior David Mack, at 211, the biggest boy to play for PDS so far, will help to increase the poignancy.

Although it was a rough one, the Panthers also have one season of varsity experience to look back on. For several, including 12 returning lettermen, the second time around may be less awe.

Backfield, Depicted

The team's main strength last year, a veteran backfield, has been depleted by the graduation of Bill Rigot and John Claghorn. As mentioned, Page is the prominent choice to replace Rigot as field general. His quickness, speed and passing ability will be a primary asset to the Blue and White.

Senior Rick Judge, who shifted back and forth between offense last season until a leg injury sidelined him, also has the ability to perform in the backfield. Aggressive play at defensive end sophomore Crichton Adams is a letter as a freshman last year, and Barren also plans to give him a shot at one of the backfield positions along with Terry Booth, who shows promise as a sophomore fullback. Sophomore new-comers also competing for backfield slots include Tony Dale, Tom Worthington and Tim Smith.

At 5'11", 188, co-captain Keith Blush will fill out of the backfield slots. He has been a consistent performer with good mobility and blocking. The third co-captain, Ashby Adams, will also probably see double duty at guard and linebacker.

Another candidate for line-backer is junior Lew Bowers, who is both agile and aggressive. Sophomore Carl Jacobelli saved a key limited action last year in his first season, but at 185 pounds, he has the potential to develop into a fine tackle.

If Jacobelli moves to tackle, senior Ed Cole may wind up at center. Others shooting for spots in the interior line include juniors Jack Killore and Bob Peck, 200-pound Ayres Browne, Tom Reynolds and Andy Houston.

On defense David Claghorn may see action as an end, Tom Spaul, a two-year veteran, will fill a defensive halfback slot, while Erik Heggen, a junior letterman, will be doing a corner-back assignment. Both Heggen and Claghorn, along with Peter McCandless will learn the quarterbacking duties as back-up men.

questioned. I'll say 9-0 with a question mark after Yale.

William Fowler, 256 John Street, employee, Borough Engineering Department, I'll say they will seven and lose to Cornell and Rutgers. Rutgers has been a tough game for Princeton the last two or three years. I think they'll take Yale this year in spite of what everyone says.

Mark Jacobs, 72 Western Way, sophomore at Harvard. I think they'll win them all except Yale and finish second in the league. They have so many fine sophomores coming up like Ellis Moore. From what I've heard Princeton has a lot of men returning and has a good, strong team. Yale with Duvelling first. Princeton second. Harvard hopes to finish behind these two, maybe tie Dartmouth for third.

Robert Ebenstein, Santa Barbara student, University of California at Santa Barbara. I predict a 7-2 season. I think they'll lose to Yale and either Dartmouth or Harvard.

WE'VE GOT TO CROW!

Peter Pan and Wendy and all the Lost Boys of Never as well as the crew will set up housekeeping in our newest listing. Cute as a doll house. It is deceptively as to space and surprisingly roomy. Center hall, pretty living room with fireplace, separate dining room opening to a large screened porch that overlooks an English garden. There is a huge master bedroom with adjoining bath, 3 other bedrooms and a full bath. It all feels like an English pub. The house is a 1 1/2 hour area lot, shrubbed and fenced for privacy, and with a club house at the Littleboro School. Offered at $49,500 and something to crow about!

LAWRENCEVILLE. . . on a quiet country road, this lovely one-story home has foyer, very large living-dining room with fireplace, modern kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. Also, for Summer enjoyment and entertaining, there is a huge screened porch. Full basement. Nicely landscaped acre and a half. 2-car attached garage. Price recently reduced. $43,500

RIVERSIDE. . . very charming and immaculately maintained one-story home on a wooded and professionally landscaped half-acre in that special neighborhood in Princeton which is the choice of many top level executives. Authentic Colonial styling by William P. Thompson. Princeton's nationally noted architect. Foyer, living room with fireplace, dining room, a very modern kitchen with adjoining family room, attached 2-car garage, a large circular terrace in back with French doors leading to the family room, 3 bedrooms and 2½ baths. There is also a staircase leading to an expansion attic, and the owner has architect's plans for more bedrooms and a bath. This fine home offers an unusual opportunity to an older couple dreaming of retirement, yet is also wonderful for a growing family. (*) $56,500

SIX BEDROOMS. . . just a year ago, this family with seven children found a century-old farm house on an acre, with great old shade trees, only 5 minutes from the Junction. Completely restored after the manner of Colonial Williamsburg, the house has a spacious center hall with a wide staircase that instantly reveals the fact no expense was ever spared in its construction, or its restoration. To the right is a very large living room with fireplace. To the left, a dining room big enough for twelve, a breakfast room, a modern kitchen with stainless steel sink, electric dishwasher, new Formica counter tops, a walk-in pantry and a modern laundry. At the end of the hall, there's a full bathroom (brand new!)
which can be a powder room for guests, or where the children can wash up as soon as they enter the house. Downstairs, the ceilings are high. Upstairs, there are 6 bedrooms and 2 more brand new bathrooms. In the attic three huge cedar closets. Brand new air-conditioners cool both floors. (*)
$61,000

NEAR THE LAKE. . . and with central air-conditioning too! On a high lot with many lofty shade trees, this fine home will appeal to people who appreciate perfection. The living room, with its high ceiling, companionable fireplace and the opulent wall-to-wall carpeting, has a bay window to 3 bedrooms (one, extra large, for it was planned to be two) and two baths.
The dining room is very spacious, and the very modern kitchen has plenty of space for table and chairs. A townswoman's family room with bar, good (or maid's) room and bath. Two-car attached garage. In the attic, a darkroom and lots of storage space. Outdoors a large swimming pool in a completely fenced yard, a beautifully landscaped. All in all, a wonderful home, in excellent condition. (*) $69,500

SPACIOUS & ELEGANT. . . on a country road, but only ten minutes from Princeton, this fine home was designed by a noted architect to be his own residence. All on one floor, with central air-conditioning, the wonderful floor plan makes this a great house for a large family (5 bedrooms, 3 baths, den & playroom), or an ideal retirement home (3 bedrooms, 2 baths, study & sun room . . . plus living room, bedroom and bath over garage for income or visiting children), or an ingenious house for a young family (3 bedrooms, 2 baths, and a full bathroom (brand new!) where - including kitchen and bedrooms! No expense has been spared to make this a large stone and frame house, with natural cedar shingles, a great place to live in and a wonderful home for entertaining. $85,000

(*) Many more homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.
Ample parking space for our clients.
